Free Income Tax Clinics Available in 2011

Community Resource Service and Millard Rouse & Rosebrugh, LLP, Chartered Accountants are working again this year in partnership with The Institute of Chartered Accountants of Ontario to provide free income tax clinics to low-income households. The 2011 Clinic marks the 40th year the service has been provided in our community.

“Community Resource Service is happy to join Millard Rouse & Rosebrugh LLP to provide this service to low income individuals in our community,” said Heather Vanner, Executive Director. “The program will allow many individuals in our community to have free assistance for the completion of their income tax returns. It is a nice fit with our organization.”

Community Resource Service operates the Brantford Food Bank, Employment Services, Advocacy, and Christmas Baskets programs. Its mission is to provide assistance to economically stressed individuals in our community.

“Millard Rouse & Rosebrugh LLP staff are pleased to volunteer and to use their expertise to assist low-income individuals in our community,” said Marie Cannon CA, with Millard Rouse & Rosebrugh LLP, and Chair of the Income Tax Clinics.

Millard Rouse & Rosebrugh LLP is a chartered accounting firm that provides services in corporate and personal taxes, financial and estate planning, auditing, business consulting and valuations, and technology solutions.

The free clinics will take place on the following evenings at the offices of Community Resource Service located at 1100 Clarence St. S., in Brantford:

- Tuesday, March 1, 2011
- Thursday, March 3, 2011
- Tuesday, March 8, 2011
- Thursday, March 10, 2011

The clinics operate by appointment only beginning February 1, 2011. Eligible individuals can make an appointment by calling Community Resource Service at 519-751-4357 Ex: 26

Eligibility for the clinics is based on total income per household. For those with no dependents, total household income must be $20,000 or less. If there are dependents, then the limit is $30,000.
